Let's Start!

Let's review!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about directions to places in a limited range of social situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can make requests and suggestions.
- I can describe cities and buildings.
- I can talk about intentions and plans.

Ask your partner:

- What would you like to do next year?
Study? Work?
- Would you like to spend a year in another country? Where would you like to go?

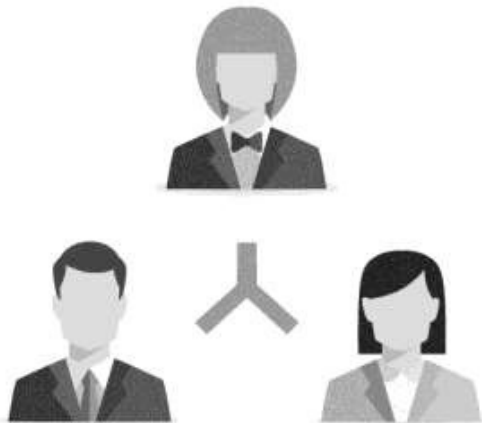

Let's Explore!

John, Sally and Vanessa catch up. Long time no see!

* You "catch up" with someone when you exchange a lot of information because you have not seen each other for a while.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Vanessa: Hey, John! Good to see you! Is everything OK?
John: Yeah! I enjoy my work on the cruise ship. It's 100 yards long. We are 100 miles away from Costa Rica. How about you, Sally?
Sally: I landed in Spain. I'm planning to explore the country.
Vanessa: Great! I'm thinking of staying here next year. I love San Francisco. I'm planning to apply to a culinary school. It's only 2 miles away by cable car! It's down by the bay, near the pier.
John: You should look into buying beachwear! I wear it every day. I'm planning to learn scuba diving next week!
Sally: When are you going to arrive in Costa Rica?
 We should chat again!

Let's Practice!

Where is everyone? Let's review yards and miles!

Instructions: Draw a line from the first part of the statement on the left to the second part on the right.

- | | |
|----------------------|------------------------------------|
| 1. It's 100 | A. 100 miles away from Costa Rica. |
| 2. It's only 2 miles | B. is near Madrid. |
| 3. We are | C. yards long. |
| 4. It's down by | D. away by cable car! |
| 5. The airport | E. the bay, near the pier. |

Let's Practice!

What are you going to practice next? Do you have a plan?

*Instructions: Read the sentences. Fill in the blank with the missing word. Use: culinary school, are going to, scuba diving, I'm thinking of, I'm planning to.

- _____ explore the country!
- _____ staying here next year.
- I'm planning to apply to a _____.
- I'm planning to learn _____ next week!
- We _____ stop there tomorrow.

Extension Activity

Let's make plans for the future!

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Talk to your partner about 5 things you would each like to do next year.
- Ask your partner for suggestions on doing these things.
- Make suggestions to your partner about their list.
- Create a dialogue on your plans and intentions. Practice it with your partner aloud.

Learning Points

Describing New Places

When you describe a city, you can talk about its geographical features using words like hill, bay, river, park.

Cities also have neighborhoods, like Haight-Ashbury in San Francisco. Neighborhoods are locations.

You use wh- questions to ask for directions in a neighborhood or a building.

You can use the Imperative, expressions and prepositions of place to give directions.

place	preposition	example
hill	down up	down the hill up the hill
bay	by	by the bay
river	by near	by the river near the river
park	in at near	in the park at the park near the park
neighborhood	in	in Haight-Ashbury

Learning Points

Saying How Far Places Are

When you want to know how far a place is, you can use the question: How far is ... ? You can reply with a specific distance if you know the answer, like It's 50 yards away. In North America, you use the imperial system, not the metric system.

If a place is nearby, you use yards to say how far it is.

If a place is far, you use miles to say how far it is.

Imperial System	Metric System
1 mile	1.6 kilometers
1 yard	91 centimeters
1 foot	30 centimeters
1 inch	2.5 centimeters

Examples:

• Ann: How far is the culinary school?

Bob: It's 2 miles away. It's down by the bay, near the pier.
